North Wales Master Suite Makeover

The master bath in our featured project is a warm, inviting, spa-like oasis. Removing a large corner tub made room for a spacious, luxurious shower complete with unique accent tile resembling a soothing rain shower. The room also features a double vanity with abundant storage and a countertop that echoes the quartz used in the home's kitchen. It's also flooded with natural light, thanks to the windows placed high up to let the sunshine in while still preserving privacy. See inside for more of this master suite makeover!

Design Trend Vanity Alcove

The Perfect Pampering Space

This master suite remodel includes a popular renovation trend: vanity alcoves. Custom Craft Designer Julie Novak Stafford crafted this one from a previously dark and unused space in the master bedroom. Considering your own dressing area? Julie recommends including:

- Specialty Storage This home's custom-built vanity holds products of every shape and size. This dressing area even has a built-in jewelry cabinet!
- Luxurious Lighting Complimentary lighting is key. Here, Julie featured a lighted mirror that makes applying makeup easy.
- Personal Space This dressing area also has a spot for the homeowner to practice yoga and meditation. Alcoves like this can be so much more than vanities; they're a private spot all your own, to do what brings you joy.

BEFORE

This master suite was part of a whole-home remodel for a family of five who needed a more functional, updated home that reflected their taste and style.

Even though the master suite's footprint stayed the same, the homeowners now enjoy a more usable space that serves as a calming sanctuary. Crystal chandeliers and crown molding were added to match their elegant style, and we even turned an unused alcove into a custom-built vanity area!
