

1111 Forty Foot Road
Lansdale, PA 19446

Winter 2022

Project Spotlight

A Peaceful Place to Practice

The Perfect Powder Room

Feature Focus

Wall Accents

Timeless texture

Design Trend

Purposeful Spaces

Beyond just a basement

CustomCraftDBR.com | 610.584.0665 | PA #5292

This basement transformation was part of a multi-room project in Blue Bell. The family called us to create a comfortable and functional finished basement that left plenty of room for storage, mechanicals, and laundry, all with a splash of serene charm.

The new lower level is the perfect place for the homeowner to practice yoga alone or teach it to a crowd — virtually for now, and eventually as a full, in-person studio. We made the room a peaceful and practical space, maximizing natural lighting and pulling in soft, organic elements that make it a mind-body oasis.

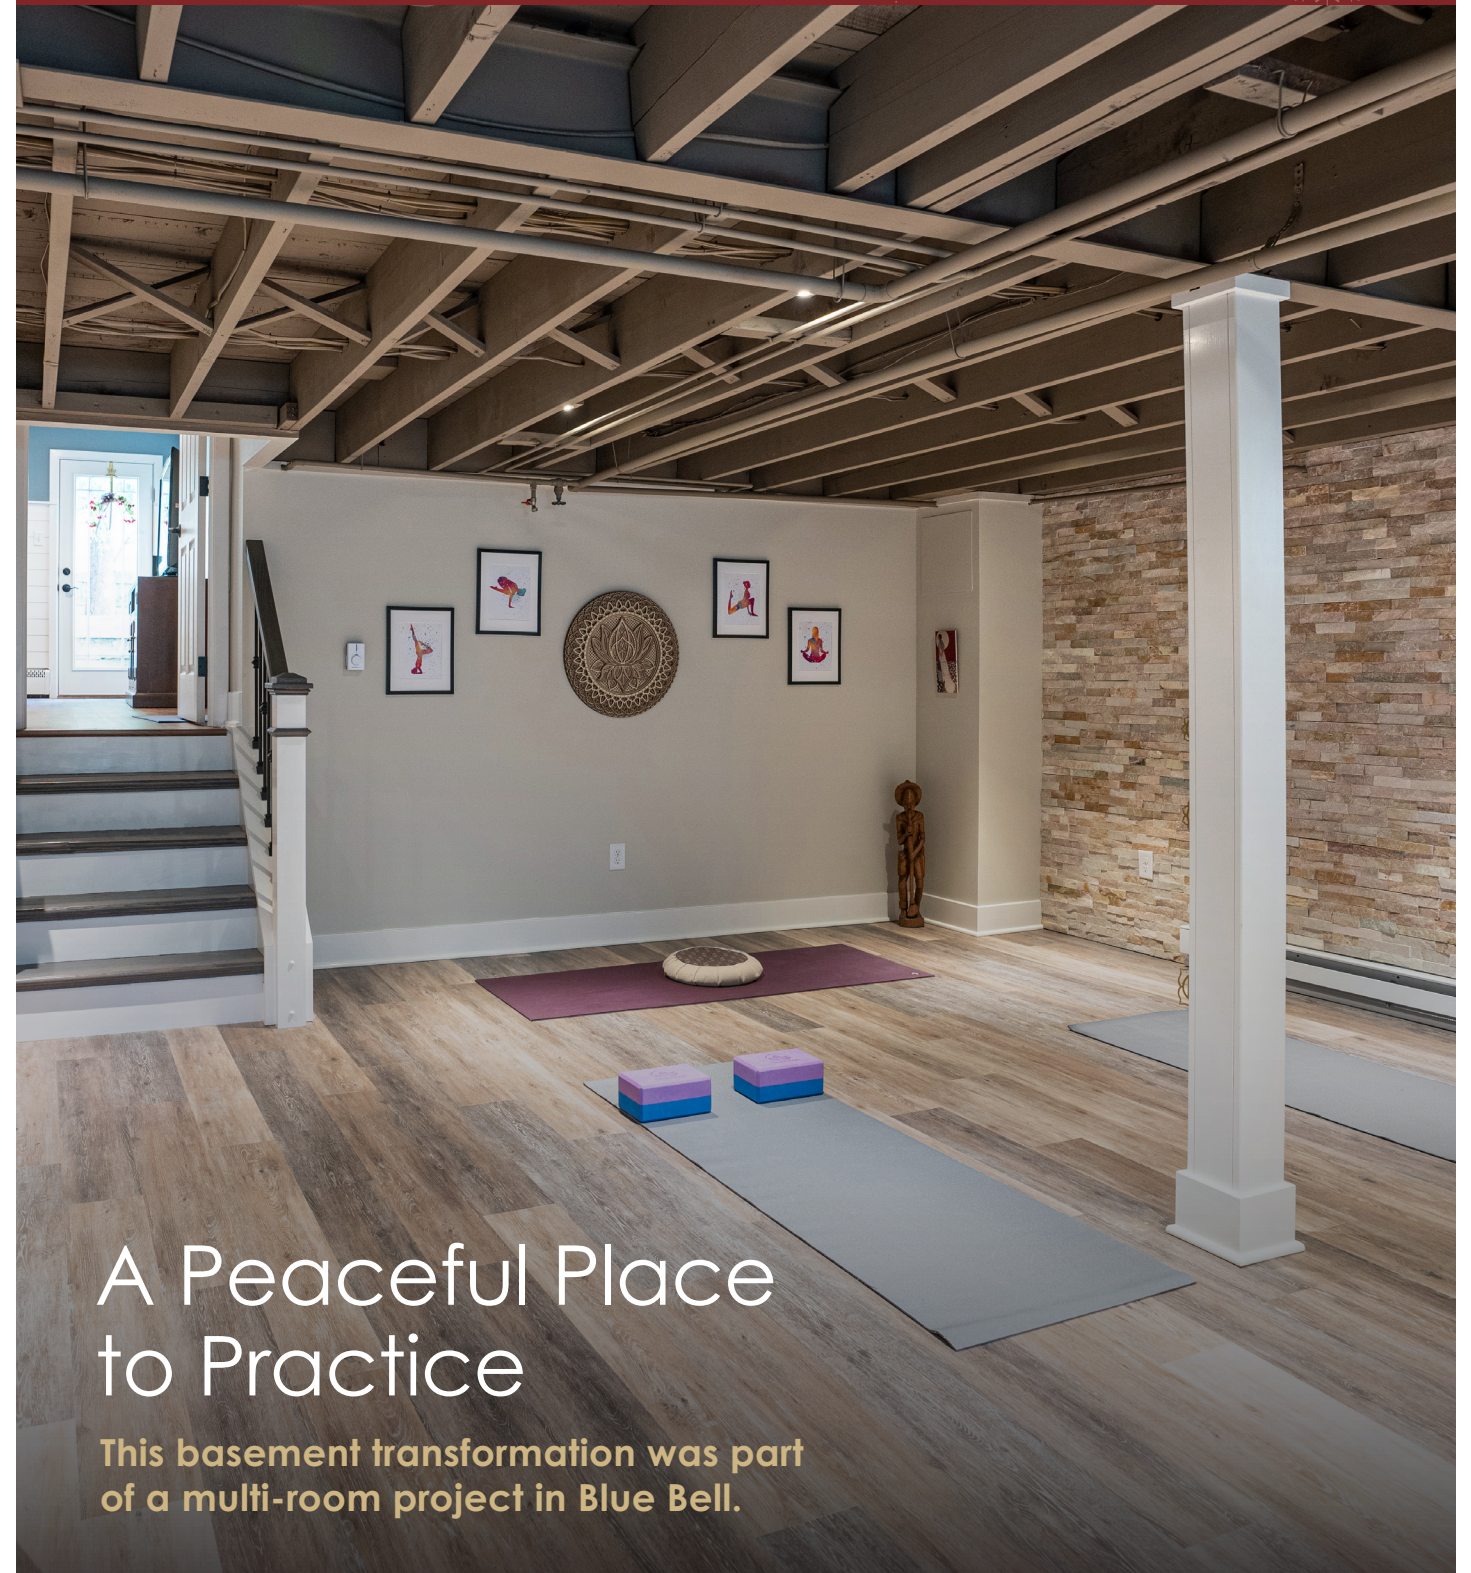

A Peaceful Place to Practice

Project Spotlight

the Craftsman

Winter 2022

A Peaceful Place to Practice

This basement transformation was part of a multi-room project in Blue Bell.

Two Levels of Transformation

Design Trend Purposeful Spaces

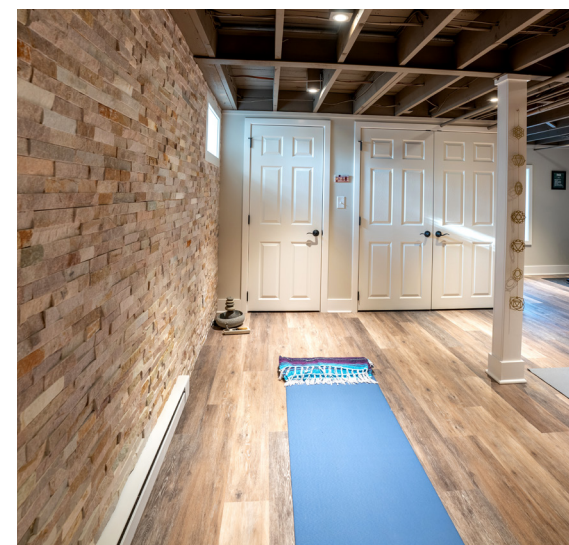

Beyond just a basement

In a shift from the multi-purpose room movement, 2022 homeowners are crafting more multi-functional areas with distinct spaces. Although it also makes a great spot for the grandkids to play, every aspect of this basement remodel was designed with peace & relaxation in mind. The newly renovated family room is now a bright and inviting place to gather and destress. The basement was transformed from a dungeon to a sanctuary full of thoughtful touches perfect for yoga — like exposed joists in the ceiling that leave plenty of room for practicing yogis to stretch arms overhead, and warm colors and natural elements that encourage calm and centered contemplation. Ready to be more intentional with your space? Contact us to start planning your next project.

The Perfect Powder Room

Thanks to thoughtful details, this basement's powder room is bursting with character. The homeowners opted for a distinctively patterned tile floor for interest and charm. A clean-lined vanity with lots of storage balances the look, and floating shelves offer a minimalist place to display decorative items. The final touch is the shiplap wall, which echoes the one in the newly remodeled family room.

FEATURE FOCUS

Wall Accents

Timeless texture

Accent walls are everywhere these days, adding unique texture and vintage appeal to any room. This home doubles down on the trend with both shiplap and stone. In the yoga studio, a textured stone accent wall complements the space's earthy tones. The raw, imperfect stacked stones add depth, soul, and visual intrigue that brings in the calming, restorative ambiance of the outdoors.